METHODISTS BEGIN GREAT CAMPAIGN FOR EDUCATIONAL FUNDS

Local Church Raises Much of Their Quota Sunday Afternoon in Every Member Canvass—Kentucky Schools To Profit.

The great educational fund campaign of the Southern Methodist church opened Sunday afternoon in every church in Kentucky and the local churches launched their drive to raise the quota which has been apportioned them in the effort.

At the First M. E. Church, South, Mr. Maurice Kirk has been chosen director and on Sunday an every-member canvass was made in which the greater part of the church's quota of $9,500 was pledged. The quota of the "Little Brick" church is $1,000 and this will be raised within a short time through an every-member canvass.

The sum being sought in Kentucky is $1,120,000, divided into $600,000 for the Louisville Conference, including Louisville, and $520,000 for the Kentucky conference, including Lexington.

Rev. Leonidas Robinson, Educational Secretary for the Louisville conference, and Rev. Dr. O. B. Crockett, Winchester, Educational Secretary for the Kentucky Conference, report that many congregations will have raised quotas Sunday afternoon. The appeal officially ends June 5.

Lack of trained ministers and the need of leaders in all walks of life who are equipped with strong moral training are arguments offered by those who are seeking pledges from each of the 100,000 Methodists in Kentucky.

Six Kentucky colleges and schools which are seeking aid through the movement are: Kentucky-Western College, Winchester; Logan College, Russellville; John C. C. Mayo College, Paintsville; the Morton-Elliott Junior College, Elkton; the Lindsey-Wilson Training School, Columbia, and Marvin University School, Clinton.

SUDDENLY STRICKEN.

Miss Elizabeth Cartmell, well-known local school teacher, was stricken with acute indigestion at her home in Front street Monday morning and for a time was in a very critical condition.

Mr. John A. Dawson spent Decoration Day with relatives at Covington.

BAND HAS BIG TIME AT FLEMINGSBURG MONDAY

Memorial Day Celebration at Flemingsburg Held Monday Was Splendid Affair.

At 11:30 Monday the automobiles commenced to roll into Flemingsburg for the Memorial celebration. At 1:35 the services opened in the New Hall, and it was crowded to its capacity. The first on the program was a fancy drill by the children of the public school, after which the band played "America," then came an address. Then the band played "Come Where the Lilies Bloom." Next a song by Miss McDonald, she was cute and sang the song well; then followed the address by Judge C. D. Newell which was above the standard.

After the nomination of American Legion officers was made the band formed the line to the cemetery where they played "Sabbath Morn," "A Night in June," and "Onward Christian Soldiers."

After the services at the cemetery the manager took them to the residence of Mr. Mac Cox who was sick and played several pieces. Delightful ice-cream was served to the boys by Mrs. Lem Cox and a rose placed on each boy by Mrs. Mac Cox, after which they were all taken to Mr. Harless McDonald's and given an ice cream treat. The boys had the delightful company of the beautiful young ladies of Flemingsburg during the day and it was a most delightful day.

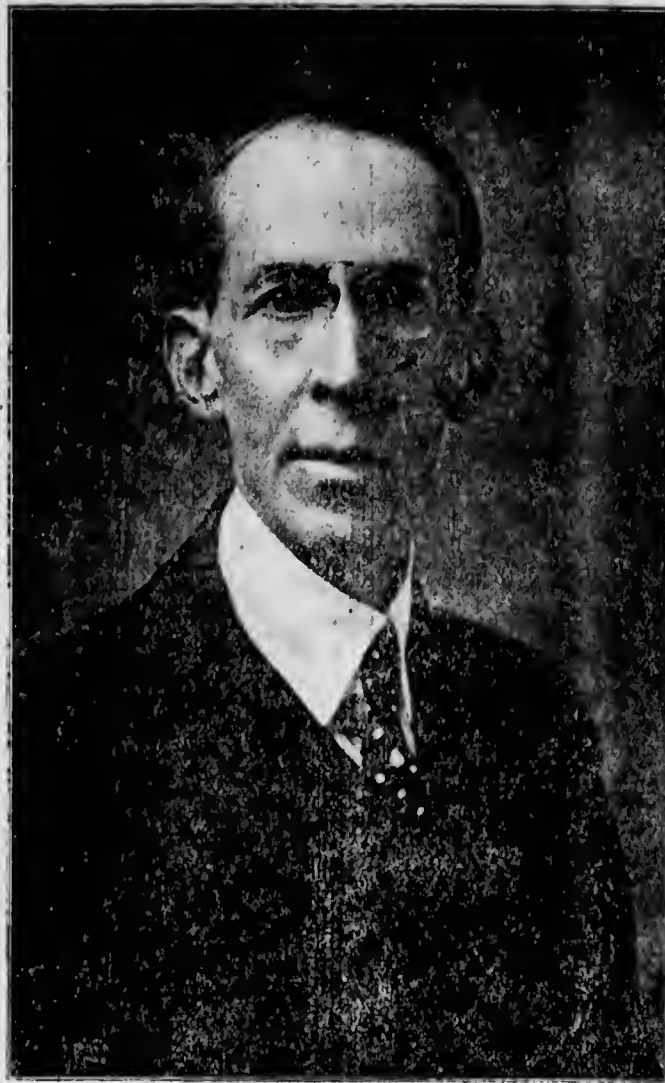

FAMOUS NIDGETS TO BE WASHINGTON OPERA HOUSE.

The Filipino Nidgets, without a doubt the two smallest living adults in the world arrived in Maysville Monday on their way North from Florida. These wonderful little people travel in a big blue truck, have had some hard roads to travel. The little people are just 11 inches smaller than the late Gen. Tom Thumb was. They were first brought to the United States by the Government for the St. Louis exposition and were given medals of honor by the Government. The little people dance and entertain; a remarkable exhibition in conjunction with the moving pictures. Usual price for children, 11 cents. Adults 25 cents. Tuesday and Wednesday nights. 31-21

MR. A. M. JANUARY BECOMES CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY CLERK

Popular Maysville Man Becomes Candidate for Republican Nomination for Clerk of Mason County Court.

Mr. A. M. January, more familiarly known to his many friends throughout the county as "Buddie" January, today announces himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Clerk in the approaching August primary election. This will prove a most popular announcement for there are few men in any part of Mason county who enjoy a wider acquaintance or who are more popular with the people.

Mr. January was, for several years, Secretary and Treasurer of the Farmers & Planters Tobacco Warehouse Company and through his connection there became known to practically all of the tobacco growers throughout the county. His characteristic politeness and gentlemanliness won for him a great host of warm friends among the tobacco growers. For the past several months, Mr. January has been teller at the State National Bank and through this connection he has also become more generally known and has added hundreds to his list of acquaintances and friends. He has served the City of Maysville during the past term as Collector and Treasurer and has done it most efficiently.

Mr. January is no stranger to the office which he seeks for during the term of the late William D. Cochran as County Clerk. Mr. January was his deputy and he is therefore acquainted with all the duties of a County Clerk and quite well equipped to perform those duties. He is an expert book-keeper and accountant and the affairs of the County Clerk's office would be quite well cared for in his hands.

A typical Southern gentleman, Mr. January will count his warm supporters in all parties in November.

MANSLAUGHTER IS CHARGE AGAINST DRIVER OF AUTO

John Dwyer Dies of Fractured Skull Caused By Being Struck By Automobile Monday Evening—Arthur N. Glascock Arrested.

Arthur N. Glascock, driver of the automobile which struck Mr. John Dwyer near his home at Moransburg Monday afternoon, went to Flemingsburg from his home near Mt. Carmel Tuesday morning and surrendered himself to the sheriff of Fleming county. A warrant was issued in the Mason County Court charging Mr. Glascock with manslaughter Tuesday morning after it became known that Mr. Dwyer had died from the injuries at about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Before they had learned that Glascock had surrendered himself to the Fleming county authorities, Sheriff Galbreath, Deputy Sheriff Devore and Chief of Police Harry A. Ort left here in an auto armed with the warrant against Glascock at about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning for his home. Upon reaching Mt. Carmel they learned that the man had surrendered himself at Flemingsburg and they went to the Fleming county capital instead. They returned to Maysville leaving Mr. Glascock in charge of the Fleming county sheriff and later in the afternoon with the Fleming county sheriff and Attorney John P. McCarty, Mr. Glascock appeared before Judge Purcell, waived examination and was held. His bail was fixed at $10,000, which was promptly given.

Those who saw the accident say that the driver of the Glascock car and the other occupants were intoxicated and it is said that tire marks on the road show that the machine went off the road to the point where Mr. Dwyer was struck. He was knocked onto the radiator of the machine and carried probably twenty feet, then thrown to the pike and run-over, his skull being badly fractured. The accident happened at about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The occupants of the car would not give their names to those who gathered at the accident but the license number was taken and through the motor records at the Fleming County Court house, it was learned that the machine belong to Mr. A. N. Glascock.

Mr. Glascock Tuesday afternoon told officers that Mr. Dwyer stepped from behind a cart directly in front of the machine.

HARRY L. WALSH TOSSES HAT INTO CITY TREASURER'S RACE

Well-Known Local Man Becomes Candidate for City Collector and Treasurer Making a Three-Sided Affair.

The third candidate for City Collector and Treasurer has entered the fight. Today Mr. Harry L. Walsh tosses his sombrero into the ring and says he's going in to win the office.

Mr. Walsh needs no comment from us for he is known by practically every voter in the city of Maysville. Few men in Maysville enjoy a wider acquaintance than Mr. Walsh who is most generally known among everyone as "Buddie" Walsh. His life work has specially fitted him for the office to which he aspires and if he is chosen he promises a faithful performance of his duties throughout his term.

No pre-election promises are being made by Mr. Walsh except that he will give the office his attention throughout his term and will do his best to serve the people of Maysville in a thorough manner. His thorough manner of doing all things he undertakes and his general personal popularity will make him a very strong contender for the office in November.

JUDGE C. D. NEWELL ANNOUNCES HIMSELF FOR A RE-ELECTION

Popular and Efficient Circuit Judge Seeks a Re-Election to Office He Has So Well Filled for Some Time.

Circuit Judge C. D. Newell today announces himself as a candidate for re-election to the office he now holds and it is predicted that there will be few more popular candidates than he in the August primary.

Judge Newell is recognized as one of the most learned jurists on the district bench in the state of Kentucky. His record in the Kentucky Court of Appeals is equaled by few and he is therefore recognized by the members of the Appellate bench as one of the soundest interpreters of statutory law. Judge Newell has firmly established a record for fairness and justice throughout the three counties included in this judicial district.

MASON COUNTY COW IN SECOND PLACE ON HONOR ROLL

Several Mason County Cows Get Places on State's Honor Roll for Pure Breeds.

Fifty-three Kentucky Dairy cows, owned by 24 different farmers and including seven Holsteins and forty-six Jerseys won place for themselves on the April honor roll by producing more than three pounds of butter fat during the two days in which they were tested under the supervision of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, according to announcement made by J. J. Hooper, head of the dairy department. This is the largest honor roll ever reported, the professor said, and marks an increase in the popularity of the cowstealing work in the state.

A total of 179 cows in forty herds were tested during the month. Star Belle DeKol Lyons, owned by the Coldstream Farm, Lexington, led the list with a record of 7.19 pounds of butterfat during the two days. Spring-side Paladin Pauline, owned by W. H. Newell, Jr., Maysville, was second with a record of 5.35 pounds of butterfat while Majesty's Golden Elsie, owned by J. C. Askew of Trenton, was third with a record of 4.81 pounds of butterfat. Allen Dale Farms, Shelbyville, placed the largest number of cows on the list, six of their animals making records. The number of cows from other owners which were contained in the list were as follows: Perrau Brothers, Dover, five; G. H. Stowe, Hopkinsville, five; Alvin T. Hart, Harstbourne Farm, St. Matthews, four; J. C. Askew, Trenton, three; Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, three; Ray F. Feaghan, Brooksville, three; W. H. Newell, of Maysville, two; R. K. R. R. RELIEF ARRIVES.

The Railroad Labor Board finally admits that a reduction in wages must be made. "Prevailing conditions justify to some extent, yet to be determined," says the Board, "a readjustment downward of the wages of the employees of the carriers." The extent of the reductions is to be made known in the near future, after representatives of both parties to the disputes have been fully heard. It is announced that the new schedules will take effect on July 1.

The relief in sight for the railroads will be very acceptable when it comes, and the public will receive an ultimate benefit through a reduction in freight and passenger rates, reflected in reduced prices on everything into which transportation costs enter. It is regrettable that the change could not have come sooner. All through the war period the railroad employees were given successive increases in their wages, approximately following the rise in the cost of living. The peak of the food cost of living was reached in June, 1920, which date also represents the high tide of many other necessities of life. The following month the last big increase in wages granted the rail employees was announced by the Labor Board. It meant an added cost to the roads of about $600,000,000 a year and raised all classes of workers approximately 21 per cent.

From that date the cost of living began to drop. Present retail food prices are less than two-thirds what they were a year ago. Clothing costs have been forced down almost as much. Owing to the slack in the building industry rents are not responding as quickly to the process of deflation, but the near future will show radical readjustment in them also. Throughout the whole year of price reductions the wages of the rail workers have remained at the high levels fixed last July. While prices were going up the workers were able to force their wages up also, but when prices were coming down the railroads and many other employers were unable to lower their labor costs accordingly.

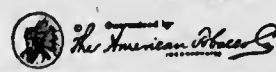

The case as presented to the Railway Labor Board by the roads was unanswerable, and no other decision than that handed down could have been rendered by intelligent and fair-minded men. It was proved that the roads were being forced to pay more for labor than they could employ it for in the open market; that the admitted reductions in the cost of living justified similar reductions in wage scales; that they were being forced to operate their properties at a loss because of exorbitant wages; and that they wished to give the public the benefit of decreased rates but could not do so under the war wage schedules in force.

Had the drop in wages followed the decrease in living costs as closely as the rise in wages followed the increase in living costs the roads would have been saved close to a billion dollars, most of which would have been passed on to the public in the shape of lower prices on all commodities and in dividends to millions of railroad stockholders. The people, in this case as in every other instance of taxation, have had to bear the burden and contribute the money to meet the swollen wage bills. But the end is apparently in sight, and, with the railroads on the road to health through the grant of normal wage scales, industry will respond to the readjusted freight rates that will follow, and the longest step yet taken toward normalcy will be recorded.

BUILD TARIFF BARRIER AGAINST GERMAN MARK
Otherwise United States Would Have To Pay Duties On Its Own Imports.

Washington, D. C. — Explanation of the provisions in the emergency farm tariff bill which takes up the differences in international monetary exchange so that the United States may not lose by exchange rates what it seeks to gain by protective tariff duties, is made by Chairman Fordney, of the Ways and Means Committee. He says:

"Section 214 of the bill is calculated to equalize foreign exchange values for customs purposes. Under existing laws all duties are liquidated on the basis of the currency the invoice or appraisal value. If that currency be found to be depreciated, the duties are assessed on the exchange value of such depreciated currency as found on the day of exportation. The exchange value of the currency of such foreign countries importing goods into the United States is in some instances so low that the amount of duty collected is very small. It is the practice of some foreign sellers to pay for their goods in American dollars, and to state in their invoices that the home value is a far lower unit price stated in the depreciated currency of that country. If the price paid by the American purchaser were converted into the currency of the exporting country on the basis of the standard coin value, the difference in the two figures would be a great extent disappear, and the value both for home and export in some instances would be alike. This, of course, does not apply to goods which are sought to be dumped upon our market.

"To illustrate its application: The German mark is now worth, let us say, 2 cents in our money. As a matter of fact, its exchange value is less than 2 cents, while the gold value of the German mark is 23.8 cents. Two German marks will purchase in the home markets of Germany a quantity of goods which, when exported to and delivered into this country, are valued at and sold for a sum ten times greater. Under existing law, however, we collect duties only upon the exchange value of the mark, to wit, 2 cents. This would result on an invoice for 1,000 marks in the collection of only $5 in duty upon a 25 per cent ad valorem basis, whereas when the depreciated currency is limited as provided for in this act 1,000 marks would equal $50 and the duty collected would be $25. Under present conditions, while the importer pay duty only on the depreciated mark and the goods are so invoiced, he, in fact, frequently pays the foreign seller a much greater price because the export price is much greater than the foreign home market value. Where the invoice is in American currency and the importer enters in marks, duty is collected upon the depreciated value of those marks."

New York Letter

New York. — If every much-disputed question in the world were checked up, not probably, not even the League of Nations would show quite as much argument given over to it as that of whether or not New York is a coldly unfeeling, or a social, generous city. The question was undergoing its regular hammering by a excited group the other evening when one woman, on the side of the defenders of our fair city, told this incident which she herself had seen the day before: An old, blind negro peddler was standing on a Fifth Avenue curb just when droves of people were hurrying homeward. Presently a cheery voice in his ear said, "Do you want to cross?" As he murmured assent, the woman saw a slim, smartly-dressed girl slip a small hand between his elbow and the tray he carried slung across his back. And the two started bravely across the street. "Did you ever see that anywhere else than in New York?" proudly queried the woman.

No one expects unanimous opinions in this world, of course, and there's no reason why differences shouldn't extend to one's idea of pets. But still — I just haven't been able to conjecture the temperament of the person who inserted this ad in an afternoon paper yesterday: "Baby turtles — just what you need to bring life into the family." It sounds like a joke on Philadelphia or something, but it evidently is intended in all seriousness.

Pretty soon there won't be any excuse left for the person who things it would be rather nice to stop work completely for a week or two in the summer time. Vacations a far cry, as it were, are being made too easy. Here come another, "vacation-while-you-work" accelerator in the shape of hourly air-plane service out to Long Beach. It starts this week and the air-boats make the trip in 18 minutes. So the before-dinner swim has been brought practically to one's door; and pretty soon the L.H.M. is going to have no way out of joining his out-of-town-for-the-summer family for dinner every evening, where-ever they may be.

In the light of those distance-elimination contests, it would seem no time at all for our right-at-home Coney to start blue-lavine. But it has cast the glove of defiance at promiscuous popularity in the form of one more bathing-suit censorship committee. A group of residents have appealed to the Board of Aldermen of that playground to pass a law requiring bathing-suits on the island to be patterned — not after those of the good old days of, say 1910, but after grandmother's own, back in '61. Blouses and stockings are to be high and skirts and bloomers low. They are not elastic on age-limits, either, proposing to make the regulation apply to "all females of apparently more than ten years old."

The only American flag used at the first inauguration of George Washington is to be preserved between two 100-pound glass plates in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The flag was carried by the Second Artillery Regiment of the state at the inaugural on April 30, 1789.

"Blue Stockings" in musical comedies are usually looked upon as the dreams of the press agent. But with the disbanding for the summer of the "Lady Billy" company, Miss Marion Barton of its fair and frivolous cast, becomes "Dr. Barton" once again and returns to Texas to teach in Baylor College, from which she was graduated with a Ph. D. as well as an ordinary A. B. She was assistant professor of English there for a term and then came to New York for a post-graduate term at Columbia, but decided upon "Lady Billy" instead when she once got into the atmosphere here. Whatever critics may ever against the present generation, it can hardly be denied that its girls are versatile.

ATTEMPT MADE TO RUIN HOME OF L. & N. ENGINEER.

Paris, Ky., May 28. — An effort was made by an incendiary to destroy the home of S. J. Bagby, a L. & N. engineer, Thursday night. Bed clothing, rugs and other articles were piled in the center of a room, saturated with kerosene and set on fire during the absence of the family. The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Bagby and members of the family on their return from a meeting at a local church. With the aid of neighbors the flames were extinguished. No clue to the incendiary has been found.

TOBACCO'S FOES LOSING GROUND

Canvass of 7,847 Editors Shows 7,393 Communities Against Abolishing Weed.

ANTIS LOSE THREE STATES.

Utah, Under Mormon Influence, Only Commonwealth to Adopt Prohibition Measure During Year.

"Is tobacco going to have its scalp added to the belt of the prohibitionist beside that of the lumented but as yet not altogether late alcohol?" is the question asked by Garret Smith in an article in the current issue of Leslie's Magazine.

The writer reaches the conclusion that while there has been increased agitation and legislative activity on the subject of tobacco, following the success of the drive for prohibition of liquor the efforts of reformers seeking to abolish tobacco have no general support. This opinion is based on the results of the questionnaire on the subject sent out to newspaper editors of the country by the Press-Service Company of New York City.

The questions asked were:
(1) Do you favor the enactment of laws prohibiting the personal use of tobacco by adults?
(2) In your judgment does the general sentiment of your community favor such legislation?
(3) Is the use of tobacco personally objectionable to you?

No arguments accompanied the questions and from their form it was impossible for any editor to determine the attitude of the questioners.

Out of 12,518 editors questioned, 7,847 replied according to the summary given. These editors, it is estimated, represent a combined circulation of 21,570,040. Of the 7,847 editors replying, 7,393, or 95 per cent, represent public sentiment in their communities as opposed to anti-tobacco legislation. Only 260 editors, or 3 per cent, of those replying believed there was any considerable sentiment favorable to tobacco prohibition. There were 174, or 2 per cent, in doubt, while 20 failed to record their judgment.

Editors' Judgment Unbiased
"It is of special interest to note that 500 editors in answering the first question, personally favored such legislation, although only 260 of them reported that public opinion also favored the prohibition of tobacco—an indication of the conscientious effort made by the editors to distinguish public opinion from their own personal opinions," the article continues.

"The highest percentage of replies reporting public opinion favorable to prohibition of tobacco came from Utah, where 42 per cent of the editors thought the public were for such a movement. Utah is the only state which has since adopted an anti-cigarette law. The result was forecast by several of the editors who stated that the influence of the Mormon Church was against tobacco. The Mormon Church is also strong in Idaho, which is the other state where the use of tobacco was recently prohibited, but the governor has signed the bill just passed, in which the prohibitory legislation is repealed. In this state 80 per cent of the editors estimate sentiment in their communities as against tobacco prohibition, which, nevertheless, is 6 per cent below the average reported opposition.

"The legislature of Tennessee some weeks ago passed and the governor has signed a bill repealing the anti-cigarette law of that state. The questionnaire showed 93 per cent of the editors believed the public against anti-tobacco legislation. The legislature of Arkansas has also passed a bill repealing its anti-cigarette law. In this state 84 per cent of the editors reported against tobacco prohibition.

Arizona's Practical Joke
"A bill, introduced in the current session of the legislature of Arizona to prohibit smoking in public dining rooms and other public places, was first amended to prohibit the consumption in public of peanuts, chewing gum, tea and coffee and then defeated by the senate. The questionnaire returns from that state were 92 per cent 'no'.

"In Iowa where the 'no's' were 95 per cent a bill to repeal the anti-cigarette law has been passed and signed by the governor.

"A bill to repeal the anti-cigarette law in Kansas, with 89 per cent 'no's', is receiving the attention of its legislature. Last year a petition for a referendum in Oregon to prohibit the use of tobacco failed of sufficient signatures to bring the question to a vote, and 95 per cent of the editors declared their public against legislation. In Oklahoma an anti-cigarette bill has been reported unfavorably in the house. The editors of that state reported 94 per cent against its public support.

"Outside of Utah, where Mormon influence predominates," the article concludes, "the anti-tobacco movement appears, as in the case of Tennessee, Arkansas and Iowa, to be losing ground and is not to any considerable extent supported by the people."

The friends of tobacco feel particularly elated over this showing. Inasmuch as 1920-21 was a maximum year in legislative circles with 42 state legislatures in session and the tobacco subject received an unusual amount of consideration.

40,000 GO BACK TO SCHOOL VIA UNCLE SAM MAIL

Colleges Attract Thousands of Older Pupils by Correspondence Courses.

Chicago, Ill. — Opening of the university door by means of correspondence courses, so that vaudeville actor, cook or printer can go to college by mail if he chooses, is one of the most striking developments of the college world of today. It is indicated by a partial census of this field.

In thirteen universities more than 40,000 persons — the great majority past college age and from a great many walks of life — were reported taking college courses with a two-cent stamp. This was the list:

University of Chicago	5,675
Columbia university	500
University of Florida	5,804
Indiana university	586
Iowa state college	240
University of Kansas	1,800
University of Kentucky	474
University of Minnesota	752
University of Missouri	1,297
University of North Dakota	250
Ohio state university	4,900
University of Oklahoma	800
University of Texas	1,529
University of Wisconsin	20,116

The come from everywhere, here and abroad. One member of the University of Chicago's correspondence classes lives above the Arctic circle, 125 miles south of Alaska's farthest northern point. Another in China, ten days by coolie train beyond the farthest navigable point on the Yantse Kiang.

More than 300 different occupations were furnished for Ohio state university's agricultural correspondence courses at the last listing. Persons taking college mail courses, there and elsewhere from day laborers, clerks, farmers, grocers, clerks, boarding housekeepers, cooks, bank clerks, geologists and quarrymen to carpenters, mill workers, vaudeville actors, artists, waiters, men in penitentiaries, janitors, probation officers, dressmakers and habesall players.

While the college correspondence courses are by no means new, they are developing rapidly in a number of schools. In still other great institutions nothing is being done in this field, for instance at the universities of Pennsylvania, Michigan and Illinois.

Courses most favored differ, with different institutions. At Wisconsin business was most popular, a third of the correspondence students, or 6,986, taking it, while engineering and industrial studies drew a fourth. At the University of Kansas it was foreign languages that stood first; at the University of Kentucky practical mining at the University of Oklahoma, education, and at the universities of Chicago, Indiana and Texas, English.

A characteristic feature of the college correspondence courses is the rapidity with which they help the university to meet popular demand for instruction. An outstanding illustration of this is noted at the University of Wisconsin, where work on the preparation of a course in federal income tax accounting was carried on while the law was in making. The course was completed and enrollment of students begun within a very few days after the President signed the act.

Indicative of the extent to which this work is carried on at the University of Wisconsin, twenty-six text books have been prepared by the correspondence staff. The number of copies sold in the last ten years to others than the university's correspondence students, upon which the institution received a royalty, was 135,050. Royalties the past year alone totalled $30,000.

In addition to running a pottery, a brewery and a line of steamships, William Hohenzollern, former Emperor of Germany, has large holdings in several theaters and opera houses in Berlin.

FATHER FORCES SMALL SON TO KILL HIM

Indianan Is Suicide Forcing Five-Year-Old Son to Pull Trigger Of Shot Gun.

Greensburg, Ind., May 28. — Walter Tremalin, 35 years old, farmer, eight miles Northwest of this city, committed suicide Friday morning by persuading his son, James, 5, to shoot him with a shotgun.

When he left home Tremalin told his wife that he was going to shoot crown. A few moments later Mrs. Tremalin heard a shot at the barn and ran to see what was wrong. She was met by the small son, who was crying.

The mother found her husband lying in a cattle stall dead, shot through the heart.

The boy said he and his father went into the stable and his father placed the gun on the manger pointing toward the rear of the stall. Standby in front of the gun with the muzzle at his breast he told the boy to get into the manger and pull the trigger. The boy did as he was told.

Despondency over financial difficulties is given as the cause for the act.

SUFFERED SIX YEARS

Mrs. Stoll Tells Women How She Found Relief From Pain

Philadelphia, Pa. — "I suffered for six years with pain every month, had vomiting spells the first two days, and was unfit to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took the medicine with satisfactory results. I am a midwife and recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and my daughters take it. You may publish these facts as a testimonial."

—Mrs. LOUISE STOLL, 609 W. York St., Phila., Pa.
It is not natural for women to suffer as did Mrs. Stoll, and in nine cases out of ten it is caused by some displacement or derangement of the system which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes, because it acts as a natural restorative.

Every woman who is subject to cramps, headaches, nervous spells, backache or those dreadful bearing-down pains should profit by Mrs. Stoll's experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and if there is any complication write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about her health.

The storm Saturday "erased" a lot of wires throughout the county which accounts for several schools not appearing today in the attendance column. There are several schools that have not yet gotten the habit of calling the Attendance Secretary—which is the only sure way of getting your school in the papers.

The "summer slump" seems to have struck several of our big schools Sunday. This is too early for that sort of thing. There might be some excuse during vacation days, but not this early in the season. Let's all get in line next Sunday.

Children's Day will be observed in several of our schools next Sunday. Fine programs are in preparation. In most of the schools the program will be given in the evening. A Children's Day program always draws a big crowd. Most everyone delights to hear the children sing and "speak a piece." The many friends of Mr. W. J. Vaughn, one of the best workers of the state association field workers and who is a frequent visitor to Maysville and Mason county Sunday school gatherings, will hear with sincere regret of the death of his son, Manly Vaughn, who was one of those killed last week in the West Virginia coal mine battles. The sympathy of every one who knows Mr. Vaughn goes out to him in this sad hour.

The Epworth Class of Third Street M. E. church will have a social Wednesday evening, June 1st, at 7:30 o'clock. Every member and friend urged to be present.

MRS. DUKE WHITE, Secretary.

Mrs. Jack Snyder returned to her home at Pittsburg Tuesday. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Edward Duley and son, who will visit for a time.

At a special meeting of Maysville Chapter No. 9, Royal Arch Masons held Monday evening a class of candidates was initiated in the first three degrees.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Porcell, of Pence, Ky., spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. George Fleming and family.

Mr. James H. Hall, of Huntington, W. Va., spent Sunday and Monday here with his family.

St. Patrick's school will be closed for the year on June 15th.

IS THIS YOUR EXPERIENCE?

Many Maysville People Are Afflicted With Annoying Kidney Pills. Are you bothered with too frequent action of the kidneys? Are the secretions highly colored—do they contain sediment—burn and scald in voiding? These are all signs of kidney sickness and should not be neglected. Maysville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches and your kidneys are weak you will find no better recommended remedy.

George H. King proprietor grocery store, 615 East Second street, Maysville says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years and have been greatly benefited by them. At times my kidneys get out of order and the secretions pass irregularly. I suffered with a severe aching through the small of my back. Whenever I have one of these attacks I use a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills and they never fail to cure the complaint in a short time." (Statement given November 15, 1916.)
